- An alternative way to cook

- Extra Batteries or power bank to keep phone charged

- Prescription and non-prescription medications

- Basic medical kit

- Gravity Fed Water Filter or a water filter bottle for each person

- Water storage containers. BOBs are great if you have a tub, but you should have some smaller containers too.

- Extra blankets

- Warm clothing

- Pet Food and medications

- Garbage bags

- Hygiene supplies (soap, toilet paper, wet wipes, paper towels)

- Homeschool supplies

- Entertainment

- Vices. We all have them. Your vice may be candy, beer, or drawing. Regardless of what it is, put back extra for uncertain times unless you plan on giving it up.
- Something for defense
- Back up power
- Emergency radio to get news

Preparing Your Home

- Remove anything from areas facing the road that could be used as a projectile.
- Consider removing anything that could antagonize. Try to think like the people that are out, causing unrest for a second.
- Add some security to your door. There are door bars, chains, deadbolts, and other easy to add things that can make a difference.
- Consider applying window security film on first story windows
- Have an exit plan and a bag for each person if you are in an area where it is easy to get trapped.
- Check your fire extinguishers. Consider purchasing an extra one.
- Drain water hoses every night to prevent freezing. Your garden hose can save your house if a fire gets started but doesn't do any good if frozen.
